Required Text: Heneman & Judge, Staffing Organizations, 7th ed. McGraw-Hill
ISBN:978007811268-3

Course Objectives:

1. To introduce current theory and practice in the core activity of talent acquisition, development, and management
2. To assist in building foundational knowledge in areas such as HR planning, recruitment, interviewing and selection procedures.
3. To integrate the foundations of HR staffing with current technological, governmental and global challenges facing organizations today.

Methodology:

Methods used to achieve course objectives include:

1. Readings and discussion
2. In-class activities
3. Tanglewood Stores Case
4. Mid-term Examinations

Appraisal:

Student grades will be based on the following:

Class participation/in-class exercises	40 points
Job analysis assignment	40 points
Tanglewood Stores Case (group)	120 points
Midterm #1 Exam	100 points
Midterm #2 Exam	100 points
	400 points total

The course is curved such that grades are based on your performance relative to the class as a whole. Effective teamwork and cooperation are essential to do well in the course.

Teamwork on Tanglewood Stores Case

Your external consulting team will produce six (6) cogently written case reports to the Staffing Services Manager and VP of HR describing your recommendations, analysis and decisions in each Tanglewood Stores Case. The full text of the case and your assignment are located online at www.mhhe.com/heneman7e. Due dates for each report are noted in the syllabus. Each case is worth 20 points. Team total scores across all cases may be adjusted for individuals, based on team peer evaluations of individual contributions.

Case Presentations: For each case, teams will be selected to present their answers to the case. Each member of the team must present some part of the group analysis. Teams should cover the basics of the case and should not read from their reports.

Case Write-ups: All groups are responsible for answering the case questions and coming prepared to class for discussion. The write-ups will vary in length depending on the case. Grading will focus on both the content and clarity of the write-ups.

Class Participation: You are expected to actively contribute to the class by participating in class exercises and discussions, asking questions to learn about your classmates' viewpoints, and reading applications prior to class. You will also be evaluated on any presentations made in class. Absences from class will affect your participation mark. Finally, participation or failure to participate in teams will influence your participation mark (and potentially your points on specific cases).

Examinations: The midterm #1 examination will consist of multiple choice and/or short answer questions covering the first six assigned chapters in the text (Chs. 1-5, 7). The midterm #2 examination will consist of multiple choice and/or short answer questions covering the remaining chapters (7 through 14) and will be administered during class.
